Volunteers needed to renovate youth center

Concerned Citizens approach Waveland Aldermen

BY LIZ HAAS

Hancock County Concerned Citizens addressed Waveland Aldermen Tuesday to report on the youth program and ask for volunteers and help regarding their newly leased youth center.

The group has leased the old welfare building on Necessaire Street in Bay St. Louis and needs financial help and support from the community.

"We want to involve all children of Hancock County and we need your support and input," said Geraldine Lang.

The program, "Save Our Children," is geared to males and females between the ages of five and 19.

It will consist of tutoring, computer training, dance and cultural education, latchkey and parenting programs and assistance.

They need financial help, cleaning supplies, equipment and assistance in cleaning, windows replaced, paint and paint supplies and furniture.

"We plan to use the building for many purposes, and we are currently trying to get finances and insurance so we can occupy the building."

"We want to instill productivity in our youth and we need to get them somewhere where we can help them," said Lang.

"I feel what you are doing is very admirable and I will send a letter to city workers and let them know you need volunteers," said Mayor

Broadwater receives first Bay St. Louis taxi license

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Taxi Cabs Inc. owner John Broadwater received council approval Tuesday, becoming the first taxi cab operation to be licensed in Bay St. Louis.

Broadwater said he is also licensed to operate cabs in Waveland and Pass Christian, and has applied for a license in Gulfport.

Mayor Edward Favre reported three other companies have applied with the city for a license, and upon completion of background checks and other information he will make recommendations.

AMTRAK

The City Council approved an expenditure of up to $1,000 for banners and other advertisements concerning the arrival of Amtrak passenger service scheduled for March 31.

Council members said they would authorize more monies as needed.

PLATFORM GRANT
The council accepted a $100,000 Mississippi State Department of Economic Development grant for platform work at the train depot.

Dillon Construction of Carriere was awarded the contract last week, after having submitted a $135,540 low bid.

The platform will extend 529 feet from the center of the depot

Board ok's new county agent

BY LIZ HAAS

The board of supervisors approved a new county agent for Hancock and Harrison counties, Dr. Arthur "Drew" A. Bates, in a Monday meeting.

The official headquarters for the agent will be in Hancock County, but he will maintain offices in both counties. He will begin work between April 1 and May 1.

Diamondhead Fire Chief Dennis Westbrook and Conrad Bourgeois, a member of the board of commissioners, addressed the board requesting additional millage for the Diamondhead Fire District.

The Property Owner's Association, which has funded the program for years, has taken away funds of approximately $114,000, according to Bourgeois.

The fire district petitioned State Representative Harry Frierson, who said the board of supervisors must approve the legislation before he could put it before the legislature.

The current charge is $7.50 per homeowner in the fire district, but this is not fair and equitable. We feel the fair and equitable way to distribute it would be to attach it to millage," said Bourgeois.

They asked for up to 10 mills annually for Diamondhead.

Gerald Gex, board attorney, said, "This is a general legislation, not exclusive for Diamondhead."

"You need to ask your attorney to amend the bill to say that each district at the next general election should place such legislation on the ballot and have the people vote on the additional tax, not to exceed 10 mills," said Gex.

"If you hold an election in Diamondhead and the people want it, then we don't have a problem with it," said acting board president, Wilmer Seymour of District 4.

The board approved a resolution on the recommendation of Johnny Griner requesting the

HHS Arts, Crafts

Annual event set Saturday, Sunday

The Commons area of Hancock High School will be filled with handmade items designed by regional artisans in this weekend's third annual Arts and Crafts Show.

Special entertainment is offered by two popular performers, Angela Easley and Chad Simmons.

Easley, 14, a Poplarville eighth grader, has won several talent shows in Tennessee and Mississippi. She hopes to have a professional career in country/ western music.

Easley recently performed at the Dixie National Rodeo in Jackson.

She will be featured in the HHS gym Saturday at 4 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. Admission is $1 adults, 50¢ children.

Simmons is also a country/ western singer, who has traveled across the state performing. He was featured at Hancock High last August.

He will be in the gym Saturday from 2 until 4 p.m., same admission.

Hancock students will also perform throughout the weekend.

The Easter bunny will be on hand to pose for photographs, and the HHS Interact Club will offer a car wash during the show.

The board approved Lil' Rays as Waveland's Business of the Year. The business will be honored at the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission's seventh annual Salute to Business and Industry on Friday, April 23.

The mayor reported a problem on Waveland Avenue with residents complaining about home- less chickens roosting in the neighborhood.

The city obtained releases from property owners and caught the chickens at night, but one resident refused to allow city workers on his property, according to Frilot.

"I don't know what to do. The man says they are not his chickens, but refuses to let us on his property to catch them and the other neighbors are complaining," she said.

"I will look at the city noise and animal ordinances and if it covers this then we can take care of it; if not, there is nothing we can do," said Lucien Gex, board attorney.

The board approved:

— the docket;

— the minutes of the last meeting;

— Waveland Police Chief James Varnell and Investigators David Stepro and Gregory Martin to attend a conference hosted by the International Association of Identification in Natchez with a registration fee of $50 each;

— Waveland Fire Chief David Garcia and Assistant Fire Chief Steve Garber to attend a Fire Hazards in Buildings course in Jackson March 5, with gas as the only cost; — a request from the Waveland Civic Association to parade on Saturday, March 13, for St. Patrick's Day.

The board congratulated Alderman Stan Weidman on his upcoming marriage.

The board adjourned to their next meeting.

and five feet from the center of the track.

The contract includes repaving of an existing platform area fronting the depot, as well as parking and drive work.

Favre mentioned he will meet with a CSX representative on March 16 concerning the city's purchase of the depot.

Clerk of Council Mike Cuevas added the depot master plan, which includes projections for small business developments surrounding the area, will be ready for review on March 18.

SPORTS BOOK
City gaming attorney Donald Rafferty reported legislative issuance for an amendment to the current gaming law for allowance of sports betting should be ready by the city's March 16 meeting.

He stated the city should make itself aware of proposed legislation which would permit gaming on rivers and bayous in Harrison and Hancock counties.

Senate bill 2699, submitted by Sen. Grey Ferris of Issaquena and Warren counties passed the House Ways and Means committee Tuesday and faces a full House vote, deadline for March 11.

The bill, according to Rep. J.P. Compreta's office, clarifies the definition of navigable waters.

OTHER BUSINESS
In other business the council approved:

— the previous meetings minutes;

— a $320,720 docket, including four additions;

— travel for three police officers to attend various law enforcement related conferences,

— the appointment of Geraldine Lang to the city housing authority board;

— a $2,500 change order on the Carroll and Easterbrook streets sewer project;

— an expenditure up to $25,000, at $2 per yard, for the labor and transportation of fill dirt for parks and projects where needed;

— a quit claim deed application on 1.35 acres of land for $807 in back taxes.

Council members were reminded of the city planning and zoning commission hearing on the Camp Onward proposal, scheduled for 6 p.m. March 23 at Bay High School auditorium.

The council recessed until 7 p.m. March 11 when they will meet with Susan Tremain, regional public relations manager with Cablevision of Florida.

under the bridge, and we called the Bureau of Marine Resources to assist by boat in the search," he said.

McNeil added, the Civil Defense Office received a second call, and the man said he was HIV positive, losing his wife and house and just didn't care anymore. At that time he said the bomb consisted of six sticks of dynamite.

"The suspect called the bridge tender to see if he was still there and told him he better get out because the bridge was going to blow," he said. "The bridge tender's superintendent then instructed him to leave the site."

McNeil reported the ATF requested the Bay police shut the bridge after a Bureau of Marine Resources officer sighted some type of package enclosed in a zip-lock bag under the bridge toward the Pass side.

At 12:30, all traffic to the bridge was shut off while they conducted a more thorough check under the bridge, according to McNeil.

He said a bad rain storm started and when the United States Customs officials and a bomb disposal personnel from Gulfport searched the location, the bag was missing, apparently washed away by the storm.

"The search was ended, and the bridge was re-opened at 3 p.m.," said McNeil.

Peterson reported an anonymous caller phoned the sheriff's office at 8:05 p.m. Saturday, February 27, saying there was a bomb set in Twin Pines Roller Rink in Waveland.

The caller was said to have the voice of a young male.

The building was evacuated and a search conducted for the alleged bomb resulted in no findings.

The state is locating VA facilities in the three areas of the state—the southern, central and northern parts.

The board approved the recommendation of architect Fred Wagner to grant another 45-day extension to the contractor making additions to the Hancock County Justice Facility.

The new completion date is set for March 11.

Bids were rejected for mosquito control services due to the need to clarify a specification.

The board will hold a workshop on March 11 at 9 a.m. to clearly define specifications of the bid.

The board was also presented with information from the Tourism Commission requesting the county adopt tax-free shopping for International Travelers to promote international travel to the area.

The board also approved:

— to re-appoint L.J. Breaux to the Pearl River Basin Development District Board;

— a request by A.L. Franklin, Hancock County Parks Commission Director, to approve the net profits from the park operated store be used to purchase a coin-operated washer and dryer from Southeastern Equipment for $990;

— recommendation of Franklin to accept the low quote from Lloyd Anderson's Can't Be Beat Fence of Perkinston to erect a fence at Lakeshore;

— recommendation of Franklin to accept the resignation of part-time worker Maria Blaze and employ Brenda McDuffy to fill the position.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The question many are asking in Pass Christian is just how many people it will take to replace the late Dr. C.D. Taylor.

I would say, it is almost impossible to find a person who has meant more to a community over a life span than Dr. Taylor did for Pass Christian.

As an old saying goes, "He walked tall throughout his life."

A medical doctor, he delivered more than 3,000 babies and treated the majority of the residents of Pass Christian at one time or another over the years.

In the midst of his medical practice, he found time to be involved in so many community projects.

I knew Dr. Taylor through Rotary, as he was very active in the Pass Club. He always had time to talk to you, no matter who you were.

Dr. Taylor will be sadly missed not only by his wife, family and friends, but by everyone in Pass Christian. His contributions to Pass Christian will go down in history.

The Larry Holmes fight March 9 in Bay St. Louis at Casino Magic is creating interest among many residents.

Last week there was a press conference in New Orleans for the upcoming fight.

Dawn (Evans) Sokol of Slidell did a portrait of Holmes from a photo taken by her mother, Penny Kent, during Holmes' last fight for Big Wheel Promotions of Bay St. Louis in Biloxi.

The portrait by Evans was used by several television stations in follow-ups to the news conference.

Evans reports she is to use the portrait to produce a limited edition print, which will be signed by her and Holmes.

Coming Saturday and Sunday will be the third annual Arts & Crafts Show at Hancock High School.

Admission to the Arts & Crafts Show is free from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Entertainment admission is $1 adults and 50¢ students. Chad Simmons is scheduled Sat. 2 to 4 p.m. in the school's gym, while Angelia Easley is set for 4 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 3 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Entertainment will also be by some of the school district's most talented students.

Participants can also have their car washed by the Interact Club while you browse the Arts & Crafts.

Youngsters may even want to have their photo taken with the Easter Bunny too.

It sounds like it will be a fun time at Hancock High on Saturday and Sunday.

Hancock High is located on Stennis Airport Drive, off Highway 603, north of Interstate 10.

I hope to see you at the Arts & Crafts Show.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Students, artists to celebrate a "Mississippi Art Extravaganza"

High School students in the Fifth Congressional District are invited to celebrate a "Mississippi Art Extravaganza" this May 18-22 in a competition to display their artwork in the nation's Capitol.

Gulf Coast artists and teachers are coordinating the art competition, sponsored by U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor. The winner of the "Best In Show" will participate in the national exhibition in Washington this summer.

The "Mississippi Art Extravaganza" is part of a 12th annual art competition initiated by members of the U.S. House of Representatives. It recognizes the talents of young American artists, but Taylor said he hopes to peak the interest of all South Mississippians.

"One of the things we hope to accomplish with this competition is to try to reach the parents as well as the students," Taylor said. "I know from personal experience that a hectic schedule can sometimes prevent adults from appreciating the finer things in life.

Exhibitions like the "Mississippi Art Extravaganza" capture the imagination and give us insight into the visions and hopes of our youth."

The group will work under the direction of Competition chairman Michele Lee of Pass Christian. Mrs. Lee and the co-sponsors are contacting educators throughout South Mississippi to encourage participation. The competition is open to any high school in the fifth Congressional District. Schools will be asked to submit no more than one entry per student.

The artwork will be displayed in an informal setting May 18-22 in the historic Walter Anderson Museum of Art in Ocean Springs.

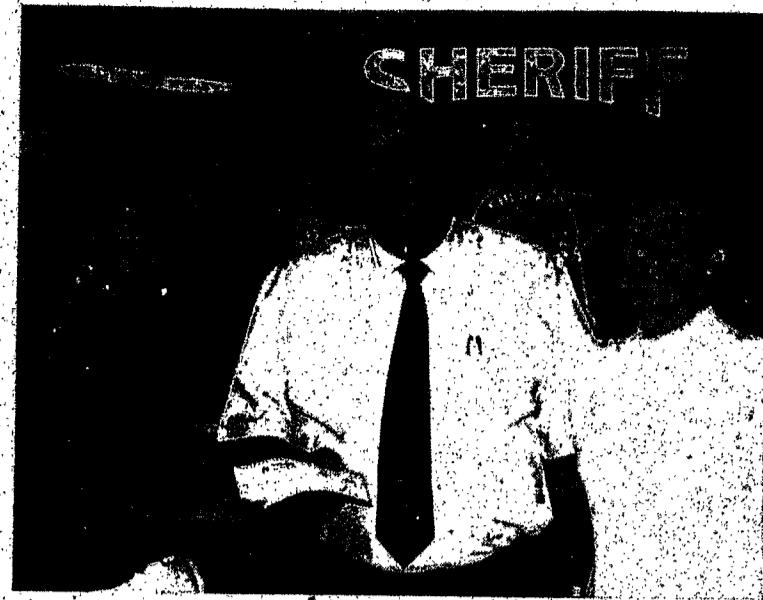

Eligible categories are paintings, oil, acrylic, watercolors, print, lithograph, silk screens, woodcuts and intaglios methods. Photographic entries will not be accepted.

Artwork must be an original concept (not reproduced from an existing photo, painting or other work). The entry must be two dimensional and no larger than 32x32 inches.

The entries must be matted and covered by ply wrap. On the back of the entries, each student is required to list name, school, class, art teacher, age and address.

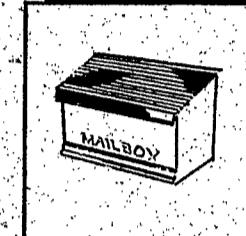

An additional 3x5 card with the same information should be included with the entry so that it can be placed in front of the picture after judging.

For more information contact Jerry Martin at Congressman Gene Taylor's Hattiesburg Office, 1-800-273-4363 or 582-3246.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Public input should be allowed on Waveland drilling

To the Editor:

We have some questions about a petition to amend the Special Field Rules for Waveland Field, Hancock County.

If the land in question is public land, the public should make the decisions:

1. To float a bond
2. To drill a well itself
3. To furnish natural gas to county and/or
4. To sell surplus

If wells are to be drilled on private land, the county should receive a depletion tax.

Also, if the drilling is to take place, shouldn't the effects on the public be considered, i.e. effects on the environment, depletion of ground water, pollution of soil, air and/or water?

Sincerely,
Earle and Yvonne Hasney
Waveland

All proceeds from the above could be used to defray the public cost for energy or to enable the whole county to receive cheaper energy.

Any employment that is produced by drilling wells will be very short-term.

We were surprised that the only public notice was the very fine-printed "Petition to Amend" in the Public Notice section, page 10B, Thursday, Feb. 25 in The Sea Coast Echo.

Since the public would share in the disadvantages of drilling for gas and/or oil, shouldn't the public then share in the benefits of drilling for gas and/or oil?

Sincerely,
Earle and Yvonne Hasney

Dear Editor,

It's about time for a reply to the letters of a regular correspondent, R. Fitch.

Mr. Fitch's criticisms of Mayor Stella Frilot are disingenuous. He condemns Waveland's Christmas Festival of Lights, clean roadways, improved drainage, repaired and renovated City Hall and a professionally-run animal shelter.

Any informed reader knows that the latter is the basis for all his consternation. When Mayor Frilot took office, Fitch and his wife were two members of a four-member animal commission.

The commission was replaced by the city department staffed by persons committed to accurate bookkeeping practices, which avoid the previous confusion of public and private funds.

That's also the reason Fitch is determined to attack and misrepresent the mayor's budgetary practices, even though the professional auditors, certifice public accountants, confirm that the status of the city's budget is just fine.

His comments are not merely disingenuous, but hypocritical.

Not only is this happening, right here in Bible Belt Mississippi, but the state has obviously struck a rich vein of new revenue to supplement its thin tax structure which is heavily burdened with consumer taxes.

When the monthly tax receipts report of the State Tax Commission came out last week, it showed an amazing $10 million in gaming fees came to the state last month. I was told this was a slight doubling up because of an overlap in report-

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Gaming has struck rich vein to help state's economy

Natchez Under-the-Hill—I was reminded of the recent movie "Build It and They'll Come" the other night when I went aboard the Lady Luck, Mississippi's newest floating casino, and found easily 1,000 people crammed inside waiting to get a turn at the dice tables, slots and roulette wheels.

Don't kid yourself: they weren't a bunch of tourists and out-of-staters. They were predominantly Mississippians, ranging all the way from state Supreme Court judges to folks from the tiny town of Bude.

And that was before Lady Luck here at Natchez, and several more coming soon at the State Port of Gulfport, as well as the Harrah's operation at Vicksburg come on line.

Very likely the state's take from dockside gaming, even after the local communities get their share, will become the third or fourth largest source of state general fund revenues.

How all this has come about in the last three years is still a phenomenon in Mississippi legislative history. The subject of legal gambling, or gaming, as it has now come to be known, was always considered just about as popular as the bollweevil around the Legislature.

Then one February in the 1990 session of the Legislature, Sen. Bob Dearing of Natchez, a smooth-working lawmaker who is always careful not to make enemies, came up with this bill to boost the economy of Natchez. It would let folks in Natchez vote to have an old-fashioned side-wheeler or sternwheeler with a gambling casino to operate on the Mississippi out of their port.

In the vernacular of the Legislature this was considered a "local and private" bill which lawmakers customarily do for their colleagues. But even then, several senators who just couldn't digest the gambling part, "took a walk," ducking out when the vote came. Amazingly, it passed.

From there, the "riverboat gambling bill" cruised downstream, "and before" it finally landed in law, Natchez wasn't the only port on the Big Muddy to be allowed into the act, and by then riverboats didn't have to have a side-wheel or a stern-wheel. In fact, not even an engine, because they didn't have to move.

Of course, once the river ports could have legal floating casinos, the Gulf Coast counties got the law fixed in a special session later in 1990 so they could have them as well.

The other night when the Lady Luck (which incidentally was built at a Greenville boatyard) was previewing to a packed house, Bob Dearing was there, wreathed in a bigger smile than usual.

"This is sum'min isn't it?" he said. You bet it is.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

A final word on Tort Reform

A long, hard battle is finally over at the Capitol building in Jackson. Changes in Mississippi's civil justice system have been signed into law, and now the business of doing business can start to pick up its pace.

It had been four years since the Legislature enacted significant tort reform. The bill which Governor Fordice signed into law last week builds on that reform, providing Mississippi businesses with a modicum of protection against situations and events over which they have no control.

And the beneficiaries of the changes in the civil justice system will not just be big corporations or the highly paid lawyers. They will be the Mississippians who work hard to build their own businesses.

Room remains for improvements in our state's justice system, and the time will come soon for those improvements to be called for in the Legislature.

But for now, tort reform is a reality—and a victory for Mississippi and Mississippians.

Farve seeks re-election to Ward 3 Council seat

Thomas "Tom" Farve has announced his bid for re-election to the Ward 3 City Council seat.

Tom Farve

He is a lifelong resident of Bay St. Louis, and son of Peter and Elvira Farve, also of Bay St. Louis. He is a member of St. Rose de Lima Parish and graduated from Valena C. Jones High School. He is also a member of the NAACP and Knights of Peter Claver.

In 29 years of employment with Stennis Space Center, Farve has become a certified mason, certified electrician and a certified mechanic. He is presently a preventive maintenance technician with Johnson Control World Services. He is also serving his 16th year as president of the International Association of Machinists Union.

Farve has always been active in the community. He was winter director for the Parks and Playgrounds for eight years, commissioner of the men's basketball league and vice president of the men's softball league.

He is married to Zettie Williams Farve of Bay St. Louis. They have two children, Thomas Jr. (T.J.) of Florida, and Jonique of Bay St. Louis. They also have two grandchildren, Thomas, Johnson, and Tiffany Farve, who reside with them in Bay St. Louis.

"Economic development has increased tremendously for the city over the past four years. We purchased the old depot and have plans to open transportation opportunities for the city with Amtrak. This means future employment opportunities for the city, not to mention the number of people already employed since the opening of Casino Magic," he said.

"Under this administration there have been three utility rate reductions and a 85 percent tax decrease," said Farve.

"The City of Bay St. Louis is growing. Plans are already underway for crime prevention and utility, street and drainage improvements.

"We would like to see housing money grants on the Coast, and are now lobbying with the state to make this happen. The next four years are crucial for the city. I have proven that I am a leader, and I'm willing to continue to help the city as well as my district move forward."

ON PATROL

From Echo Staff Reports

ACCIDENTS

State Highway Patrol Trooper 1st Class David Murtagh reported four accidents between Saturday and Wednesday, none resulting in serious injuries.

The most recent was 7:55 a.m. Wednesday on the Bay St. Louis bridge, in Harrison county.

Jean Dubuisson, 17, of Pass Christian was driving a 1981 Buick in the right lane, heading west, when he passed a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Geoffrey J. Kohl, 18, of Pass Christian, who was traveling in the left lane, and upon passing veered into the left lane in front of Kohl, clipping bumpers and colliding.

Murtagh said, the accident resulted in minor damages.

On Tuesday at 3:15 p.m., the trooper stated, Sherry Elaine Roberts, 31, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was driving a 1992 Chevrolet north on Highway 603 approximately one-half mile north of Bayou LaCroix when the vehicle ahead of her lost control, causing Roberts to stop.

Behind Roberts was a 1989 Toyota driven by Linda S. LaCour, 48, of Diamondhead, who rear-ended Roberts' car following the unexpected stop.

Roberts was transported to Hancock Medical Center. Information as to Roberts' treatment or admission was unavailable from HMC spokespersons.

Later Tuesday, about 8 p.m., Murtagh said, Marlene D. Meyers, 48, of Gulfport was traveling west in a 1987 Dodge on Highway 90. Attempting to make a U-turn at Lower Bay Road, Meyers entered the left lane of east bound traffic and into the path of Tina Adams, 28, of Bay St. Louis, driving a 1989 Nissan.

Mobile Medic was reported to have transported Adams and Tommy Manning, 44, of Gulfport, a passenger in Meyers' vehicle, to Memorial Hospital of Gulfport.

A hospital spokesperson said records showed both were treated and released at Gulfport.

Murtagh concluded, Saturday at 10:02 p.m., Waveland police-man Kevin R. McIntosh, 26, was answering a call as he was heading north on Waveland Avenue approaching Highway 90.

As he attempted to cross the west bound lane of Highway 90, the signal light was red. The light changed to green as he crossed the east bound lane and into a 1992 Chevrolet driven by Marian T. Wheeler, 47, of Waveland hitting her vehicle broadside.

The trooper added, both vehicles spun clockwise and Wheeler's vehicle turned over twice.

McIntosh was taken to HMC in a Waveland patrol car, where he was reported by a hospital spokesperson to have been treated and released.

Wheeler, according to Murtagh, was transported by Mobile Medic to Memorial Hospital of Gulfport, where a hospital spokesperson reported the only information available was, "Wheeler is not presently admitted."

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Theerre Baackkk! Yes siree bob. The specks are back early this year.

The long piers along Beach Boulevard have been the scene of the most beautiful sights to behold so far this year. The long piers have been producing some really nice specks this past week on chartreuse plastic cacahees.

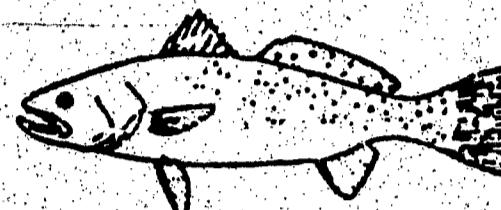

The folks who have been catching the specks are fishing by bouncing the plastic cacahees off the bottom with a slow retrieve. They claim that they use a motion that allows the bait to hit the bottom, then they give the rod tip a small jerk to make the bait jump off the bottom.

They reel in to take up the slack in the line, then they repeat the process over and over. This has resulted in catches that have averaged about six nice trout per trip.

Reports indicate that the best time is on a rising tide or on a high tide. They report that they have caught specks during the middle of the day and during the morning hours. The tide has been the most important factor.

The person who has caught the most fish this past week is a man by the name of C. B. Mollere. C. B. is among the rare breed of fishermen who believe that there is no sacrifice that is too great when it comes to fishin'. What I base this on is the simple fact that the water temperature is cold enough to turn your toes inside out. Yet C. B. and his friends are out there in the surf, waist deep, pitting their skills against the denizens of the Sound.

C. B. is making one concession to the cold water however. He wears waders. At least he is keeping the water from coming into contact with his skin. Or maybe he carries an ice pick to chip himself out from time to time.

I guess it is not really that cold if you wear chest high waders, and long pants, and wool socks, and thermal underwear, and arctic overalls, and carry a hot water bottle, and, and...

I know I have been only talking about the specks that C. B. has been catching, so I better mention that he has also been catching his limit of red fish out in the surf.

Almost all of the red fish caught, and the trout, have been over the size limit, which means that the spawning fish are coming in from the deep to make more fish for this summer.

What all of this means is that this should be a really outstanding year for fishin' if the conditions stay like they are for the next few months.

The only negative aspect is that most of the specks and reds being caught now are potentially the best breeding stock.

In checking other areas of the Coast, I found that the fishin' is uniformly slow. Part of the reason for this is that there are very few fishermen out trying their luck.

The report from Bayou Cadet area indicates that the few fish that were in the bayou have packed up and left. Maybe they went east with the geese. I didn't think fish could fly.

Except for some fresh water catches of perch, even the fresh water catfish have stopped biting. Maybe this is the lull before the storm. I sure hope so.

The last thing for this week is that the saltwater fishin' license is on the legislative agenda. We are the only Gulf Coast state that does not have a saltwater license.

The license will be very helpful to saltwater fishermen because it will be dedicated solely to the enhancement of saltwater fishin'. This means that funds will be available for some honest to goodness research to determine such things as size limits, the number of recreational fishermen using the resource, and even such things as if specks die after practicing catch and release."

The benefits of the saltwater license far outweigh the negative of paying $4 a year for the preservation and enhancement of our specks and reds.

This week's wonderful wise words: Replace your fishing line now before you start the fishin' season, or you will be sorry....

Do turtle toes turn inside out, turtle?

Pretty reds

C.B. Mollere of Waveland pulled in these three 23-to-25-inch-long reds Monday while wade-fishing off the Clermont Harbor shoreline. Mollere stated, "I've fished here all my life and this is the first year I caught reds this size since the nets (gill) have been off the beach." Reisch breaks track record

Chris Reisch broke the Ole Miss 1992 school record in the 200 with a 21.53 time at the Iowa State Invitational on February 13.

He also finished fourth in the 200 at the Louisiana State University Invitational held February 6.

Reisch of Sprints, Illinois, broke the school record at the MEYO Invitational, finished seventh in the 200 at the SEC Outdoor Championships and tied Ole Miss Invitational and Ole Miss Track records in the 100 with a time of 10.3.

In high school at St. Stanislaus, he was state and district champion in the 100 and 200 in 1990, placed first in the 200 at the Mississippi Meet of Champions in 1990, held state 4A record and earned three letters in track.

Reisch, 21, is the son of Jeffrey and Marie Reisch and is a computer engineering major.

Bay Area Youth Soccer begins spring season

Bay Area Youth Soccer began the spring season with a series of Saturday games for the Under-8, Under-10, Under-12 and Under-14 age groups.

The rainy weather has not interfered with the playing of most of the games with only a few games being replayed on Sunday afternoon.

Under-8

In Under-8 play, the U-8 Dolphins defeated Coach Bourgeois' Team 3 by a score of 3-2 in a close game Saturday, Feb. 27.

Ryan Mullins scored the first goal for the Dolphins in the second quarter, and Sam Tart scored the remaining two goals in the third quarter.

The Monti Electric Bay Kickers defeated the U-8 Bullets by a score of 3-0. The initial goal was scored in the second quarter by Michael Kivian off an assist by T. J. Koger.

Rounding out the first half scoring was Koger with an assist by Kyle Lewis. Lewis struck again in the third period with an unassisted goal. William Harris and Brandon Higgins added to the offensive drives.

The defense was spearheaded by Quentin Sierra, Kevin Schaumburg, Jacob Higdon and Jude Walser. Keeper

Kickers will face rivals on both Saturday and Sunday, as will most of the Under-8 teams. Saturday's game will take responsibilities were shared by Koger, Kivian, Higgins and Sierra.

This coming weekend the 2-0 place in the morning, and Sunday's game will be in the afternoon.

In a game played on Feb. 27, the Team 6 Dragons, coached by Steve Kulikowski and sponsored by Aqua Drilling, defeated the Team 2 Hurricanes by a score of 3-1.

Outstanding offensive players for the Dragons were Grady Wily, who scored two goals and Jace Ponder, who scored one goal. The outstanding defensive player for the game was Julie Reboul.

On Feb. 28, the Dragons defeated Team 5, coached by Barbara Brodtmann, by a score of 2-1.

Outstanding offensive players were Grady Wily with one goal and Kase Mitchell with one goal. The outstanding defensive player for the game was Brooks Breland.

Under-10

A very even series of games is being played by the U-10 age group on the Coleman Avenue field with none of the five teams emerging as a super power yet. The title is up for grabs from any of the five hard-playing teams in this age group.

Under-12

The three Under-12 teams are seeing a lot of action this spring season, not only playing each other, but also playing teams from out-of-town. The U-12 competition is held each Saturday at the Waveland Elementary Field.

Under-14

The Under-14 boys team is in first place in the Gulfport U-14 League. The BAYS U-14 Blaze team, coached by Richard Flowers and sponsored by the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis, is competing in a round robin competition with five other teams from Gulfport.

The Blaze team's record is seven wins and two losses with five shutouts. The Blaze team has scored over 60 goals in nine games and has had 15 goals scored against them.

David Flowers leads in scoring with an average of 2.5 goals per game, followed by Jimmy Saucier, Ty McMichael and Bil ly Powell.

Other players scoring goals or assists include Mark Gagnon, Michael Flowers, Chris Foster, Christopher Flowers and Jeremy Braud.

Strong defensive support has been provided by Jason Braud, Ben Guy, Nick Saucier, Scott Dane, Kenny Spansel and Rick Beacham. Strong goalkeeper defense has been provided by Michael Flowers and Jimmy Saucier.

The U-8 and U-14 games are played at the St. Augustine Seminary fields in Bay St. Louis. The U-10 games are played at the Coleman Avenue field and the U-12 games are played at the Waveland Elementary field, both in Waveland. Everyone is invited to come out and see soccer action on Saturday afternoons. Admission is free.

Lady Raiders turn program around, earn first South State playoff berth

Special to the Echo

If there is any doubt that the Lady Raiders have arrived, one only has to look as far as their team record for the past three years:

In 1990-91, the girls' team did not even compete in their MPSA district. In 1991-92, the Lady Raiders posted a 4-21 season, coming up short in many close games and ending up last in the MPSA South A District.

Coach Kristin Townson, who started at CEHS in the 1990-91 season, says she and the team worked hard to learn and improve during and after that second season. "We knew we had the potential to be a threat in our district this year," she says.

That potential has turned into a 1992-93 record of 23 wins and 6 losses. The Lady Raiders played third in the district and earned a place in the South A State playoffs for the first time.

Among their list of victories, the team defeated several larger 3A and 2A schools. With only one senior, Townson feels that the team has even more potential for next year.

The Coast Episcopal Lady Raiders averaged 48 points per game, 33 rebounds, 16 steals and 13 assists. Senior Megan Uram displayed the strongest all-around game—11.1 points, 6.8 rebounds, 4.0 steals, and 5.8 assists per game.

Uram was routinely ranked in all 4 categories in the Sun Herald prep stats (all schools).

Junior Vanessa Shiyou, the team's 6' post player, has 14.4 points and 9.5 rebounds per game. She was chosen Player of the Week by the Sun Herald in January.

Junior point guard Mandy Williams, another solid all-around player, has 9.3 points, 4.6 assists, 2.6 steals and 2.2 rebounds per game.

Sophomore Amy Dedeaux averages 3.0 points, 3 rebounds, and 1.8 assists per game.

Freshman power forward Morey LeFevre averages 13.2 points, 13 rebounds, and 6.7 steals per game. LeFevre led the Sun Herald prep stats in steals for the entire season (all schools).

The team is rounded out by juniors Miriam Salloum and Whitney Eastman, freshman Courtney Taylor, and seventh grader Mara Saccoccia.

Townson said, "These players had to step into some very big games this year, especially Miriam Salloum, and they performed well for us off the bench."

Names to the MPSA South A All-District Team were Shiyou, Williams, LeFevre, and Uram (the only CE player to have been All-District previously).

Additionally, Morey LeFevre was named All-Tournament for her performance at the South A District playoffs.

And in only her third year of coaching, Townson was named South A District Coach of the Year.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

DIAMONDHEAD GULF COURSE RENOVATION

The Property Owners Association board has hired John LaFay, golf course architect, to develop plans for Pine Course renovation.

LaFay is a protege of George W. Cobb, long considered one of America's leading golf course architects.

During his association with Cobb, he was involved with the design or renovation of some 50 courses, including the rebuilding of many features at the Augusta National Golf Club, where Mr. Cobb was the consultant for over 20 years.

If the board approves the final plans for this project, hopefully the course will be ready by Oct. 1. We leave another part of our "Paradise" in very capable hands.

DIAMONDHEAD RESTAURANTS

Both Mr. Casano, POA president, and Jake Bodiford, the food and beverage manager, ask for your understanding and patience while the management tries to work out some problems existing in the new operating hours of the country and yacht clubs.

The recent loss of three chefs and other employees to Casino Magic, and for various other reasons, has created a significant disruption of food quality and service.

Things are looking up, though, as a new executive chef, Thomas Kohr has been hired. He brings many years in club, restaurant and banquet experience to the staff. Again, welcome aboard to Mr. Kohr. Show your support and make your reservations now for the membership appreciation night dinner/dance on Friday, March 26. A great menu is planned, and there will be dancing to the sounds of "Take Five." Please call 255-2919.

Cystic Fibrosis fundraiser

There will be a sit-up contest and fundraiser for Cystic Fibrosis on Saturday, March 6 from 10 to 11 a.m. at Nautilus Plus in Diamondhead.

Sponsor sheets must be picked up from Sports Locker, Nautilus, Plus and Loicano Health Club to be eligible for prizes.

Participants who get $50 in sponsors will get a free t-shirt with the top dollar participant receiving a trophy.

Participants getting $10 in sponsors are automatically entered in the sit-up contest.

Trophies will be awarded to the two contestants who do the most sit-up. The cost is $10.

To receive more information or become a business sponsor, call Charles Farrar at 255-9956.

DIAMONDHEAD SQUARE AND COMPASS CLUB

All Master Masons with a Blue Lodge membership card indicating that they are in good standing, are welcome to join the Diamondhead Square and Compass Club.

They meet at 3 p.m. on the second Wednesday of each month at the Diamondhead Community Center.

They plan a ladies' night at Gina's Restaurant across from Day's Inn on Tuesday, March 23 from 7-10 p.m. Dress is casual, but members are asked to wear their white shirt with the club's logo.

Cost is $12.50 per person, $25 per couple when paid in advance, $15 and $30 at the door.

There will be door prizes for the ladies and gentlemen. RSVP on or before March 15. Call president Dan Smith at 255-9338.

Sounds like some good fellowship for all who plan to attend.

DIAMONDHEAD SPCA

New residents of Diamondhead (as well as old) are asked to tag their pets with the owner's name, address and phone number whether the animal is out of the house or yard or being transported to and from. Make sure the identification is intact.

Losers and finders should call either Frances Pike, 255-1297, or Jean Keen, 255-7826 and watch Cable TV Channel 38.

Also, for lost pets, keep searching, put notices up at the shopping center, alert your neighbors. Remember, security cannot come to a home and pick up a lost or stray animal; it is not their job.

Bay Area Chorale debuts with Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah"

Joy Mehrtens

Ticket Information

Tickets for the performances are $12.50 for adults and $9.50 for children under 13. The adult ticket price includes one cocktail. Seating for both performances is limited, and no tickets will be sold at the door.

For tickets, send a check and self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Diamondhead Performing Arts Society, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Suite 701, Diamondhead, MS 39525. Please specify which performance you wish to attend.

For additional information, call Carol Novak at 255-6042.

Special to the Echo
The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society will introduce the Bay Area Chorale in concert Saturday, March 27 at 3 and 7:30 p.m. at the Diamondhead Country Club.

For their premier performance, George Frideric Handel's "Messiah" has been chosen in keeping with the approaching Easter season. This masterful choral work is the life story of Jesus Christ.

This joint musical endeavor, which drew choral singers from the entire Coastal area, has been artfully directed by Joy Mehrtens and Dennis Assaf.

Joy Penny Mehrtens, the Chorale's musical director, served as a choir director and organist for more than 25 years in the New Orleans metropolitan area.

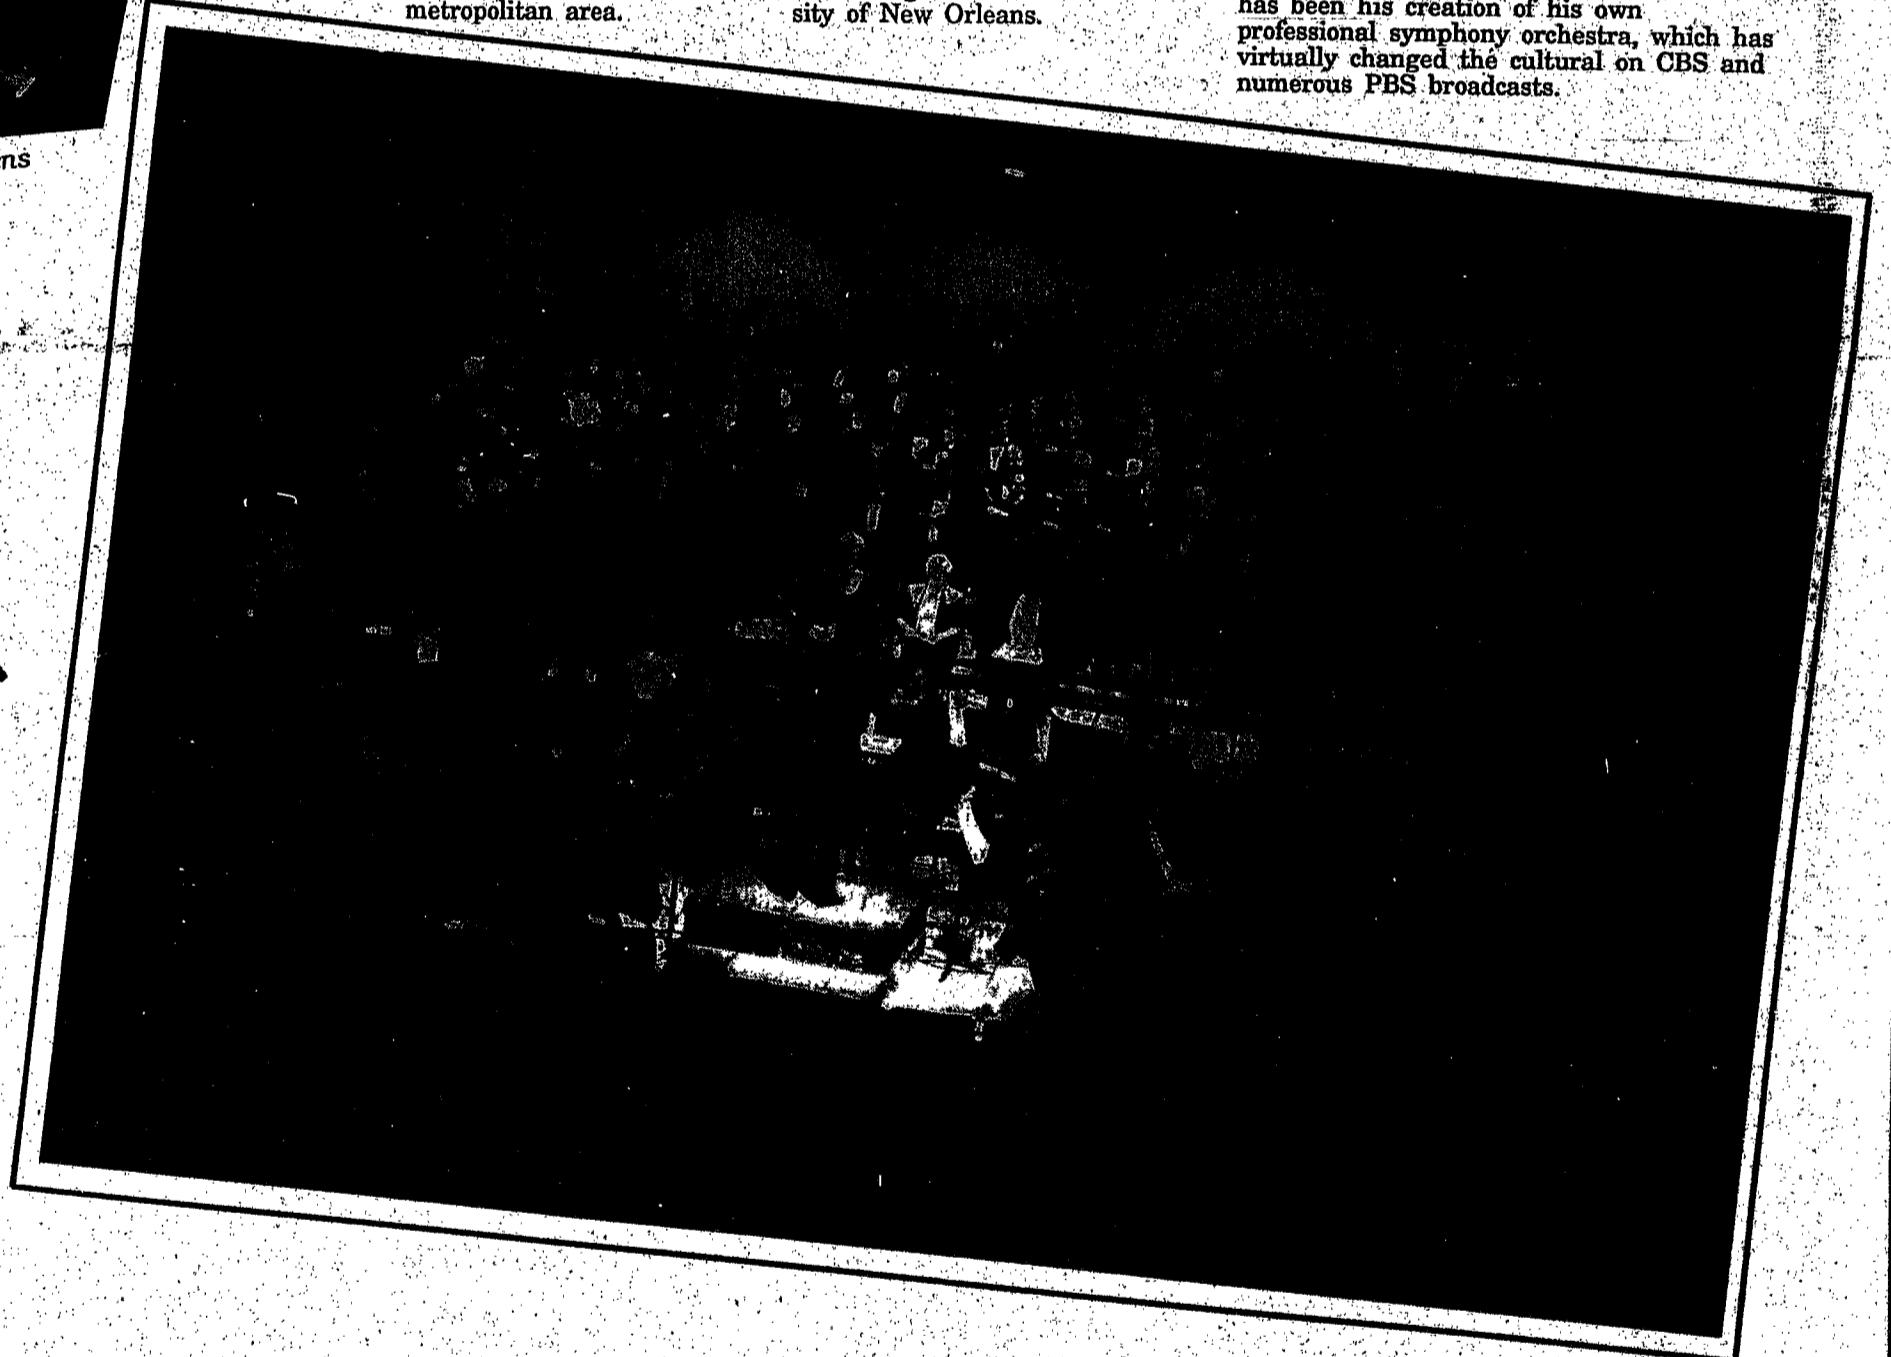

While residing there, she was director of music and minister of liturgy at Holy Name of Jesus Church on Loyola University's campus, as well as the university organist. After receiving a master of music degree, she has performed and conducted choirs throughout the South.

Mehrtens currently teaches music at Our Lady Academy and also at Delgado College in New Orleans, where she conducts the college chorus and both the vocal and instrumental chamber ensembles. In addition, she teaches voice and piano at the Gulf Coast School of the Performing Arts in Gulfport.

Dennis Assaf, concert master, holds a bachelor of music education degree from Loyola University and a master of music in conducting from the University of New Orleans.

Dennis Assaf is the founding director of the highly recognized Jefferson Performing Arts Society. Among numerous conducting credits, his major accomplishment, thus far, has been his creation of his own professional symphony orchestra, which has virtually changed the cultural on CBS and numerous PBS broadcasts.

GED video/workbooks offered at libraries

Preparing to take the examination to get your Graduate Equivalency Diploma (GED)? The Hancock County Library System has five different video/workbook sets that can assist you in studying for the test.

Called "The Step by Step Guide to Passing your GED," the sets include reviews in science, writing skills, social studies, interpreting literature and the arts and mathematics.

Donated to the library system by Heads Up/Operation Liftoff, a program developed by Pat Robertson of the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN), the study sets are a supplement to the "Winning" series.

Pat Robertson and CBN, through the Heads Up/Operation Liftoff program, have set a goal of registering 100,000 people in the state of Mississippi to read and obtain the GED.

Two sets of each five reviews are available at all three branches of the Hancock County Library System: City-County, Waveland and Kiln.

There will be no charge or deposit for the video or workbook. The items must be checked out by anyone with a library card as a set of one video and one workbook. They will be on loan for seven days.

This is part of the Hancock County Literacy Program, which is sponsored by the Hancock County Library System. Further information is available by calling any branch—City-County, 467-5282; Waveland, 467-9240; or Kiln, 255-1724.

Local schools learn wonders of ocean through JASON project

More than 6,600 children from Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama will come together in Biloxi this month to explore ocean mysteries and study gray whales in their breeding grounds in Mexican waters.

They will be among 750,000 students worldwide watching these live images which will be broadcast via satellite link from Mexico's Baja California Sur in the Sea of Cortez.

PRC concert band performs March 8

The Pearl River Community College Concert Band will perform its annual spring "Pops" concert beginning at 7 p.m. Monday, March 8 in Moody Hall Auditorium.

The 60-member ensemble, under the direction of Archie Rawls, will perform a medley of popular movie themes by John Williams as well as selections from the movie "Robin Hood."

The new percussion ensemble under the direction of PRC's assistant band director Kyle Hill will also perform.

The PRC concert band is comprised of students from throughout the PRC six-county supporting district.

The research is part of this year's JASON Project, an "electronic field trip" conducted annually by the JASON Foundation for Education.

In Mississippi, broadcasts are being sponsored by the Commander, Naval Oceanography Command in cooperation with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's J. J. Scott Marine Education Center, administered by the University of Southern Mississippi.

"What we're demonstrating is science in action," said Dr. Robert D. Ballard, who leads the JASON Project and is best

Cousins, Strom named semi-finalists

Two local high school students were chosen as semi-finalists during the selection of Student Argonauts for the 1993 JASON Project. The Associate Student Argonauts will be recognized during the two-week Jason expedition in March.

The students were nominated by the Naval Oceanography Command Headquarters, one of 26 Primary Interactive Network Sites (PINS) participating in this year's Jason Project. The competition, involving more than 500 ninth and 10th graders from PINS in the United States, Canada and England, was conducted to select students to accompany Dr. Robert D. Ballard and his scientific team on the Jason Project's expedition to Mexico's Baja California Sur.

Associate Student Argonauts include Patrick E. Cousins, St. Stanislaus and Reish J. Strom, Hancock High School.

Members of the South Mississippi Alliance for Physics chose nominees based on their academic records, extracurricular activities, teacher recommendations and original essays relating to the Jason Project's topics of exploration.

Bennett is OLA's chamber representative

Leanne Bennett, a senior at Our Lady Academy, is the school's representative to the Hancock County Chamber of known for discovering the wrecks of the Titanic and battleship Bismarck.

"We're really showing them that science is a contact sport at times. It's an exciting activity, whether it's in the ocean, whether it's in space, whether it's on land."

Students will share every discovery as if they were actually with the expedition's scientists.

Video images will be supplied by cameras aboard the Turtle, a Navy rescue submarine capable of diving 10,000 feet, and the Jason, a deep-water robot operated by Ballard, his scientists and 20 student argonauts who were chosen to accompany the expedition during a nationwide competition last year.

Students from 56 area schools have registered for the broadcasts, including Bay High School, Coast Episcopal, Hancock High School, Hancock North Central, Our Lady Academy and Pass Christian Middle School.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

★ STICK TO THE FACTS
Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

★ BE HONEST
Ads from being mythical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

★ SPELL IT OUT
Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

★ THE BOTTOM LINE
State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

★ BE THERE
List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

★ ASK US
If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!
